Each quarter, Navient recognizes an employee and a senior leader. The Solutions Navigator Award recognizes an employee for excellence within and beyond expected job duties. The Navigator Leadership Award recognizes a company leader who exemplifies extraordinary commitment to Navient's leadership competencies and to the company's mission and values.

Jakes received the Solutions Navigator Award for the superior support she provided to the Customer Resolution Services and Customer Care Center teams as they were being cross-trained. She played a critical role in the merger's success by providing both teams with the necessary system access and educating them on it.

When asked what advice she would give to employees to help them live The Navient Way, Jakes shared the importance of helping others.

"We all have rough moments in life, but keep in mind we all have a job to do and when someone needs help, help them as you would want to be helped," said Jakes, security analyst, Navient.

Castagna received the Navigator Leadership Award for his development of a multi-year strategic roadmap that assists Navient in addressing potential cyber threats.

"In leading the Information Security Program, my team and I contributed by protecting our company, customers, and shareholders from cyber security risks," said Castagna, vice president and chief information security officer, Navient. "As a financial institution, Navient's ability to provide customer-friendly, efficient and secure transactions is paramount."

To honor Castagna and his efforts, the Navient Foundation, the company-sponsored philanthropic fund, made a contribution to the Wounded Warrior Project. The nonprofit honors and empowers wounded veterans and their families.
