Phipps, a human resources coordinator who has been with Navient for three years, was nominated for the award by her colleagues at the company's Wilmington and Newark locations.

At Navient, Phipps is often one of the first people new employees meet in the Greater Philadelphia region. She can be found facilitating the company's new employee orientations at Navient's locations in Newark, Wilmington and Moorestown, N.J.

Jon Kroehler, senior vice president and chief human resources officer, presented Phipps with the award, which recognizes one employee who demonstrates Navient's core values: customer-centricity, proactivity, leadership, stability, integrity and innovation.

Phipps credits her success at Navient with staying focused and positive throughout each day.

"Don't let little things stress you out and approach each day with a fresh attitude," Phipps said after receiving the award. "You should be able to have a little bit of fun to enjoy your job."

An effective multi-tasker, Phipps is no stranger to juggling many different tasks in the workplace to assist her colleagues, always going the extra mile to meet deadlines and accomplish goals, while also consistently demonstrating a professional and polite demeanor.

"The dedication of our employees, such as Jaimie, are an integral part of Team Navient and its commitment to our customers," Kroehler said. "This positive attitude begins at employee orientation and we thank Jaimie for instilling her passion in others every day."

In her spare time, Jaimie enjoys spending time with family, relaxing on the beach and cooking.
